

116 Try me, and then speak.

Notice is hereby given, That Mr. H. Bigg (having left off his Occupation) is willing to dispose of his Fine Utensils at a Reasonable Rate. He now follows the Great Art and Mystery of Translating, and has Acquired the Character of The Union Translator, or Sole-Preserver of Great Britain; and, The most Ingenious of that Profession. He mends all sorts of Shoes for Men, Women and Children: He does them both strong and handsom, and at Reasonable Rates. His Knowledge is very great in the Cure of Decayed Boots, Spatter-dashes, and Smiths Bellows. A certain Smith in the Western Parts, hearing of the Fame of this Gentleman, sent for him to Cure his Broken-winded Bellows, and, contrary to his Expectation, he made them better than they were at first, although given over by others as incurable: The Truth of which may be Attested by several Eminent Persons in and about this City. To the Poor he gives Advice gratis, Whether their Shoes be worth Mending, or not: If worth Mending, he takes them; if not, he honestly returns them. As he desires all Persons to beware of Counterfeits and Ignorant Pretenders, (who are Coblers indeed) much more doth he beseech all People not to let their Shoes, Boots or Spatter-dashes run too far, lest they are given over, not only by Ignorant Pretenders, but even by himself also, as Lost and Incurable. Take Notice of a certain Pretender near Bishopsgate-Bars, who has lately had the Impudence to Reprint my Bill with his own Name to it; but his Workmanship will soon convince you, that he is only an Impostor. He seldom Visits, unless sent for, nor then neither, without a Fee; and if it be far, he requires a Coach. He will Reside in these Parts only One-half of the Year, and then designs for North Britain, the People of those Parts having made Pressing Instances that he would come thither to do Cures to their Decayed Commodities. He is to be spoke with at his Office in Bartholomew-Close, every Day in the Week, except St. Munday, which Day he sets apart to Solemnize the Memory of St. Hugh, &c. His Hours are from 8 till 12, and from 2 till 8. He has a very fashionable Horse to Sell or to Lett. His Kitt, or Bones of St. Hugh, will be sold by Retail. He likewise Prepares those most Excellent and Useful PILLS,

The Ephephaphian PILLS.

They Infallibly Cure, 1. Giddiness in all Cases. 2. Drowsiness in all Cases. 3. Cloudiness of Understanding in all Cases. 4. Noise in the Head perpetually. 5. Forgetfulness in some Cases. 6. Stupification in all Cases. 7. Hurry and Confusion of Thoughts. 8. The Mullygrubs. 9. Melancholly. 10. Frenzies. 11. Blindness in some Cases. 12. Jealousie in abundance. 13. Nonperformance of Things expected to be done. 14. Ignorance in all Cases. 15. Loss of Memory in some Cases. 16. Looseness of the Body, and Looseness of Life. 17. And (if rightly Applied) they cure the Ephephaphu, or want of Teeth. Price 3 s. 6 d. the Box, with Directions. These Pills are Prepared by Dr. S---, and his Merry-Andrew near No---gate.